Welcome to Corinth!

On behalf of all of us who live and work here, thank you for your interest in our part of the world here in Northeast Mississippi!

Our area is known for its rich Southern culture, with our extraordinary history rooted in farm culture, music, creativity, and culinary delights. Poignant events that shaped the fiber of our country have also had a major impact on our area, none more so than the American Civil War. The Corinth Civil War Interpretive Center, a part of Shiloh National Military Park, explores the siege, battle, and occupation of Corinth through interactive exhibits, videos depicting the Battles of Shiloh and Corinth, and educational presentations of all sorts.

While navigating a post-COVID landscape, our focus remains on highlighting the many ways to #enjoycorinth. Whether you are in town to shop, work, take in our rich history, or enjoy the variety of local culinary offerings, I know your experience will be one to remember. Be sure to visit our many shops and attractions, both in and out of Downtown Corinth. Lake Hill Motors Motorcycle Museum, Crossroads Museum, and the Coca-Cola Museum should all be on your to-do list, as well as the newly-renovated downtown green space, Trailhead Yard. In these places, you can “dig a little deeper” to experience and enjoy the real Corinth.

Whatever brings you to Northeast

Mississippi – be it a meeting, family reunion, sports tournament, sightseeing, shopping, or the history of the area – the Visit Corinth staff welcomes you as our special guests. To help you make the most of your visit, this printed guide will serve as your fingertip-access to Corinth’s tourism partners and businesses.

Should you need more information, you may always visit our Welcome Center on South Tate Street just off Highway 45 South/Harper Road exit, stop in the Visit Corinth office at 215 North Fillmore Street, or just ask a local! We are always happy to help.

Now ... have a fun, affordable, and safe visit to our area! To further assist you with any planning needs, visit our website at corinth.net. You can find the most updated information about events and festivals on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter by searching for “Visit Corinth.”

We hope you enjoy your stay with us and come back often! There are always new ways to #enjoycorinth, and we’d love to show you!

Sincerely,

Christy Burns

CORINTH'S RICH HISTORY

Visit historic homes, battlefield, museums

Corinth
Civil War
Interpretive
Center

Living history programs are sometimes held at the Corinth Civil War Interpretive Center.

Corinth has so much to offer newcomers, visitors and longtime residents, but one of the most enduring offerings, time after time, is the area's rich history – and what a history it is.

Founded as Cross City by Houston Mitchell and Hamilton Mask in 1854, the town's name was soon changed to Corinth. The area was once billed as the Crossroads of the South because of the importance the city's railroads played during the Civil War. Those two rail lines which crossed over each other at city center made Corinth one of the most strategic transportation hubs fought over by both the Union and Confederate armies.

Today the Crossroads Museum and Historic Corinth Depot sit only a few feet from the original railroad tracks that remain busy with frequent traffic from freight trains.

While the depot's museum details the birth of Corinth, the Corinth Civil War Interpretive Center tells the story of the Battle of Corinth and how the town played a vital role in U.S. history.

Corinth offers two historic homes with stories to tell.

The Verandah-Curlee House and the Duncan House are both highlights of Corinth's remarkable architectural offerings.

Originally built in 1857 for Mask, the Verandah-Curlee House served as headquarters for several generals during the Civil War. Confederate generals planned the attack on Union troops while housed at the Verandah-Curlee House in April 1862. The decision would lead to the Battle of Shiloh.

The Duncan House was recently restored to its 1858 glory. The area adjacent to the house features a Civil War era railroad junction buried in concrete. Seven markers tell the importance the historic Crossroads played during the Civil War. The park is open to the public, as is the city-owned Verandah-Curlee House. The Duncan House is a private residence.

Another site not to be missed is the Corinth Contraband Camp.

The park is full of large trees while a quarter-mile paved walkway is lined with six life-size bronze sculptures. The sculptures depict the men, women and children who inhabited the camp between November 1862 and December 1863 as they lived, worked and learned. Historical markers along the way offer facts and quotes to help reflect on this integral piece of Corinth history.

Using the Corinth Contraband mobile app, videos will create an augmented reality experience. Parking and benches are available, and dogs are welcome.

The Corinth Coca-Cola Museum has drawn on the fascinating over 100-year history of Corinth Coca-Cola Bottling Works. The museum features over 1,000 pieces of authentic Coca-Cola memorabilia, plus a large collection of old fashioned drink machines from years gone by.

221 North Fillmore Street
(662) 287-3120
crossroadsmuseum.com

Admission: Adults $5; Over 50 $3; Under 16 free

Corinth was born in 1853 as Cross City at the Historic Crossroads where the Memphis & Charleston and the Mobile & Ohio railroads crossed making the city the most strategic transportation hub during the Civil War.

Frequent traffic still keeps the tracks active today as Norfolk Southern and Kansas City send dozens of freight trains through Corinth each day.

The Crossroads Museum sits only a few feet from the original tracks inside the Historic Corinth Depot.

The museum offers visitor's a chance to get a glimpse of passing trains while also offering permanent exhibit items featuring Civil War relics, depot and railroad industry displays, fossils, American Indian artifacts and aviation memorabilia. On the museum grounds, visitors can view a historic caboose and a Civil War cannon and carriage used during the Battle of Shiloh.

New to the museum is a working model railroad exhibit where visitors can push a button and watch the trains go around the tracks. It is truly a must-see for model railroad fans.

The museum also features a unique opportunity to view passing trains from the second level of the nearby train viewing platform. The structure also provides an enclosure for a 1924 American LaFrance antique fire engine once used to fight fires in the historic city.

The museum's gift shop offers authentic Civil War relics and one-of-kind pieces of art from the Corinth Artist Guild.

CORINTH CIVIL WAR INTERPRETIVE CENTER

501 West Linden Street
(662) 287-9273

Admission: Free

For six months in 1862, Corinth, a critical railroad junction and second only to Richmond in military importance, captured the full attention of a divided nation. Today, a National Park Service visitors center interprets the key role of Corinth in the Western Theatre of the American Civil War.

The 15,000 square foot facility features interactive exhibits and a multimedia presentation of the Battle of Shiloh and the Battle of Corinth. The center stands near the site of Battery Robinett, a Federal fortification where some of the bloodiest fighting of the Battle of Corinth took place.

An extensive courtyard exhibit is a home to a water feature commemorating 200 years of American history. The center also houses a 75 seat auditorium, public research library and a gift shop/bookstore.

VERANDAH-CURLEE HOUSE

Originally built in 1857 for Corinth co-founder Hamilton Mask, the Verandah-Curlee House served as headquarters for several generals during the Civil War.

Confederate generals planned the attack on Union troops while housed at the Verandah-Curlee House in April 1862. The decision would lead to the Battle of Shiloh.

The structure's original Greek Revival architecture remains throughout.

The National Historic Landmark home and garden recently completed a major renovation and is now open for tours.

DUNCAN PARK

810 Polk Street

Admission: Free

Duncan Park features the historic Duncan House. Extensive work recently completed on the Civil War-era home restored it to its circa 1858 glory. The area adjacent to the house features a railroad junction buried in concrete. Seven markers tell the importance the historic Crossroads played during the Civil War. A stone tribute to Native Americans who once lived in the area is being added in 2023.

60 SITES IN 60 MINUTES HISTORIC DOWNTOWN WALKING TOUR

Brochures available at Visit Corinth, Crossroads Museum and the Alcorn County Welcome Center

An extensive walking tour of Historic Downtown Corinth gives visitors a glimpse of the many historical structures and landmarks located throughout the city. The tour begins at the Crossroads located at the Crossroads Museum and Historic Corinth Depot.

CORINTH CONTRABAND CAMP

902 North Parkway

Admission: Free

During the Civil War, many African-Americans who searched for freedom and protection found it at the Union-occupied Corinth. Union General Granville Dodge began to enlist these freedmen as teamsters, cooks and laborers. He actively recruited male refugees, armed them and placed them in charge of security at the newly organized camp in Corinth.

FARMER'S MARKETS

No. 1: Shiloh Road; No. 2: Fulton Drive (behind Kroger)

Both locations feature farmers who offer locally grown fruits and vegetables out the back of their pick-up trucks.

CORINTH NATIONAL CEMETERY

1551 Horton Street

The Corinth National Cemetery was founded in 1866 and is the final resting place for 1,793 known and 3,895 unknown soldiers representing 273 regiments from 15 states.

The process of consecrating remains was begun in September 1864. The remains were gathered from some 15 or 20 battlefields or skirmish grounds from Corinth, Iuka, Holly Springs, Guntown and Farmington.

Veterans of all wars are buried there, many with their wives.

CORINTH'S CIVIL WAR EARTHWORKS

BATTERY F, BEAUREGARD LINE AND FORT BATTERY ROBINETT
Davis Street, Highway 2

The city offers visitors a multitude of Civil War-related sites but none as impressive as the extant earthworks, which have survived not only military engagements but the battles of time and development as well.

They once encircled the city, protecting the vital railroad junction from advancing armies.

Today they can be found in neighborhoods and wooded lots, a tangible reminder of

COLONEL WILLIAM P. ROGERS STATUE

600 East Waldron Street

Colonel Rogers, known as the hero of Battery Robinett, was mortally wounded in fighting on the second day of the Battle of Corinth, October 4, 1862. Federal General William Rosecrans ordered Colonel Rogers buried where he fell, an eternal reminder of Rogers' ultimate sacrifice. In 1896, the Albert Sidney Johnston Camp #1164 of The United Confederate Veterans had the statue erected to honor their comrades and leader Colonel Rogers.

The statue, which once stood at the intersection of Waldron and Franklin Streets, is now more than 100 years old and stands on the corner of the Alcorn County court square.

THE WOODLANDS of Farmington

WEDDING AND SPECIAL EVENT VENUE

Interested in hosting your wedding amidst beautiful sun-dappled trees? Look no further than The Woodlands of Farmington. John and Brenda Hayes constructed The Woodlands in 2019 just 10 minutes away from downtown Corinth. Their goal was to offer a venue with a classic southern ambiance and all the amenities to ensure a less stressful approach to wedding planning. The Woodlands offer an outdoor chapel surrounded by towering trees and an indoor reception hall equipped with a caterer's kitchen and enough round tables with white chairs to comfortably seat up to 180 guests. Bridal parties can prepare for the day in the privacy of their own suites. White linen tablecloths and the recording of your wedding ceremony are available upon request. Is this beginning to sound like the perfect place to host your next special event? Call John and or Brenda at 662-255-2626 or 662-415-1602 to schedule a tour.

DAY TRIPS

Plan a great adventure to these gems within a short drive from Corinth

By MARK BOEHLER
editor@dailycorinthian.com

There's scenic beauty, amazing recreational opportunities and even more great history scattered across the region within a 50-mile drive of Corinth. With unique day-trip offerings to Mississippi and Tennessee within an hour's drive, newcomers and visitors to Corinth will find a new gem at every turn.

MISSISSIPPI

TISHOMINGO COUNTY

TISHOMINGO STATE PARK

105 County Road 90, Tishomingo – 36 miles from Corinth
(662) 438-6914

Located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, this state park features natural beauty that includes massive rock formations and fern-filled crevices. Massive boulders and wildflowers border trails once walked by Native Americans. The park also features the popular swinging bridge, rock climbing, disc golf courses, cabins, campground and hiking trails.

Recent additions include improvements to the campsites with concrete pads, new picnic tables and grills and water and sewer hookups.

There are also new glamping campsites available with canvas tent and bed, fire ring, table and two chairs.

NATCHEZ TRACE PARKWAY

105 County Road 90, Tishomingo – 36 miles from Corinth
(662) 423-1017

This famous two-lane National Park Service road from Nashville to Natchez was the premier highway of the early 1800s and a modern scenic parkway. The parkway runs directly through the Tishomingo State Park.

TISHOMINGO COUNTY OLD COURTHOUSE MUSEUM

203 East Quitman Street, Iuka – 35 miles from Corinth
(662) 423-3500

Offering a fascinating visit to the past and a resource for genealogical research, this historic two-story brick courthouse remains much as it was in 1889 and features a collection of artifacts appealing to everyone's interest.

THE APRON MUSEUM

110 West Eastport Street, Iuka – 36 miles from Corinth
(662) 279-2390

The appreciation of the art, fashion and history of aprons is detailed inside this unique downtown museum. Call ahead for hours of operation.

J.P. COLEMAN STATE PARK

613 County Road 321, Iuka – 35 miles from Corinth
(662) 423-6515

Overlooking the Tennessee River, this park

See DAY TRIPS, page 82

DAY TRIPS

offers the finest in all types of water sports including sailing, swimming, skiing and fishing. Camping, exploring an untamed wilderness, swimming pool, cabins and river view suites all draws visitors.

PRENTISS COUNTY

DOWNTOWN BOONEVILLE

West Main, Market, College streets – 20 miles from Corinth
(662) 416-9278

With a number of recently opened boutiques and restaurants, downtown Booneville not only has beauty in its charming, historic architecture but also offers plenty to do in shopping and dining. There are also several historic sites to see including the Prentiss County Courthouse, Booneville Hardware and old depot.

BRICE'S CROSSROADS & MISSISSIPPI FINAL STANDS INTERPRETIVE CENTER

599 Grisham Street, Baldwyn – 34 miles from Corinth
(662) 365-3669

Located on a hallowed battleground, the center interprets a Civil War battle fought in the summer of 1864 with both indoor and outdoor exhibits. The center features a Civil War timeline, a memorial and a remembrance wall.

TIPPAH COUNTY

FIRST MONDAY TRADE DAYS

10590 Highway 15 South, Ripley – 39 miles from Corinth
(662) 474-7539

A huge outdoor flea market taking place on the first weekend of each month, this event is an outlet for craftsmen, artisans, farmers, ranchers and other vendors.

TENNESSEE

McNAIRY COUNTY

BUFORD PUSSEY HOME & MUSEUM

342 Pussey Street, Adamsville – 33 miles from Corinth

This home museum is dedicated to legendary McNairy County Sheriff Buford Pussey, the subject of several major motion pictures, including "Walking Tall." The museum features original furnishings, photos, cars, guns and memorabilia of the Pussey family.

BIG HILL POND STATE PARK

1435 John Howell Road, Pocahtontas – 26 miles from Corinth
(731) 645-7967

Encompassing 4,138 acres, the park highlights include a 70-foot observation tower and a half-mile boardwalk that winds through Dismal Swamp. Guests can also enjoy camping, hiking, backpacking, mountain biking, plus fishing and paddling on Travis McNatt Lake. Canoes and kayaks are available for rent.

Camping at Tishomingo State Park

The newest addition to the park is a disc golf course through wooded areas.

HARDIN COUNTY

SHILOH NATIONAL MILITARY PARK

1055 Pittsburg Landing Road, Shiloh – 28 miles from Corinth

(731) 689-5696

A short drive north from Corinth on 4,000 acres overlooking the Tennessee River, stands 152 monuments, 217 cannons and over 450 historic tablets marking America's best-preserved battlefield. A 10-mile, the self-guided driving tour begins at the visitors center and features an orientation film and interpretive exhibits. Ranger lead programs are given seasonally. The park is also home to the Shiloh Indian Mounds and Shiloh National Cemetery.

PICKWICK LANDING STATE PARK

116 State Park Road, Counce – 28 miles from Corinth

(731) 689-3129

Just south of Pickwick Dam, the park is home to excellent water recreation. The lake and river offer fishing, boating, swimming and a marina. Accommodations on the park include a lodge and restaurant newly renovated in 2020, woodland cabins, lakeside villas and camping. In addition to water sports, guests enjoy golfing, birding, picnicking, disc golf, nature walks and tennis. The park contains 1,416 acres of forested hills and hollows. The lodge has 119 rooms each with a picturesque view of the lake. An indoor pool and an outdoor pool are exclusively for cabin and lodge guests. The lodge has a restaurant, gift shop, laundry facilities, meeting rooms and exercise rooms. Lakeside villas are two and three-bedroom units with outdoor decks, a great room with a gas fireplace and furnished kitchens. Also opened in 2021 – Paws Landing, a lakeside, fenced-in dog park with play area for large and small dogs, waste disposal, dog exercise equipment and benches for pet owners. It is located next to the lodge.

Confederate Gen. P.G.T. Beauregard (Larry McCluney) and Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant (Dr. Curt Fields) invite visitors to visit the storied history at nearby Shiloh National Military Park.

TENNESSEE RIVER MUSEUM

495 Main Street, Savannah – 36 miles from Corinth

(731) 925-2364

This expressive museum houses one-of-a-kind artifacts detailing the unique history of the Tennessee River Valley. From pre-historic life to post-war reconciliation, discover the exciting stories of bygone eras with a tour through dozens of educational exhibits.

TRAIL OF TEARS

495 Main Street, Savannah – 36 miles from Corinth

(731) 925-2364

Crossing through downtown Savannah, the Trail of Tears shows decades of rising tensions and marks when President Andrew Jackson signed the Indian Removal Act in 1830, forcing thousands of native tribes to move west. The following journey is known as the Trail of Tears and remains a marked trail as a reminder of the struggle they faced. Two main paths were traveled, including one by land and one by water, both of which cross through Savannah.

WHAT'S A SL

Slugburgers can be found in several Corinth cafes, including the White Trolley.

UGBURGER?

Corinth's signature sandwich remains a must-try

The slugburger is Corinth's signature dish and a must-try for newcomers and visitors to the Crossroads area.

They first became popular during the Great Depression when meat was rather scarce. No, these burgers aren't made from real slugs. It's a mixture of beef and soy or some form of a breading extender. The patty is deep-fat fried to a golden brown and served with mustard, onion and pickle (some folks add cheese). Most people can eat two burgers with a side of fries.

The original version was sold for a nickel (also known as a slug), hence the name.

There are a handful of local diners who serve up fresh slugburgers, and for those who would like to take some of the meat home, a few grocery stores offer it packaged for sale.

Each July, Main Street Corinth presents a festival held in honor of the delicacy.

The Slugburger Festival is a tradition and features several days of excitement offering up big-name entertainment, a carnival around court square and, of course, slugburgers.

CORINTH THEATRE-ARTS

Crossroads Playhouse
303 Fulton Drive
(662) 287-2995
corinththeatrearts.com

Corinth Theatre-Arts is the longest continuously operating theater in north Mississippi. An artistic outlet for all ages, CT-A is a thriving community theatre and performing-arts venue with a multi-show season of drama, comedy, musicals and children's productions as well as other events. Since 1968, enthusiastic and dedicated volunteers have worked to make CT-A a strong, vital and innovative presence in northeast Mississippi.

Well-known plays like “Little Shop of Horrors,” “You’re A Good Man Charlie Brown,” “The Rocky Horror Show,” “Cat on a Hot tin Roof,” “Steel Magnolias,” “Oliver,” and “To Kill A Mockingbird” have graced the CT-A’s Crossroads Playhouse stage in past years. Through the theatre’s Second Curtain Series, plays like “Waiting for Godot” and “Barefoot in The Park” are hosted sharing stories that audiences may not be as familiar with. Each show always features a cast of award-winning talented local and regional actors and direction from the theatre’s resident artistic director. Each summer theatre camps are available for students in grades 2-12, and the holiday season isn’t complete without an annual outing to see the Charles Dickens classic “A Christmas Carol.”

CT-A will celebrate Season 54 in 2023. Check www.wheretheatrecomesalive.com for latest information on upcoming plays.

CORINTH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

facebook.com/corinthssymphonyorchestra

The Corinth Symphony Orchestra is a major player in the arts community in Corinth. The group promotes a wide variety of orchestral and ensemble music through several concerts held each year, including their annual Christmas concert. Led by Conductor Maurice Weatherall, the symphony often boasts their full brass concerts.

“An Evening of Bach ‘n Roll,” a classic rock-themed set featuring regional rock band Prowler, and “Musica Classica d’Italia” were two recent shows. The symphony also often features Broadway stars and local school choir groups singing alongside the orchestra. With the exemption of the occasional outside performance, concerts are normally held inside the historic Corinth Coliseum.

COLISEUM THEATRE

404 Taylor Street
(662) 284-7440

corinthcoliseum.com

Built-in 1924 by showman B.F. Liddon, the Corinth Coliseum is a shining star on the local architectural landscape.

On the National Register of Historic Places and designated as a Mississippi Landmark, the coliseum features ornate classic Greek design details throughout including original brass fixtures, a gold bombe molding and a grand staircase made from Italian white marble. The auditorium features stationary floor seating, as well as mezzanine and balcony seating and a natural sound unlike anything.

Visitors and newcomers to Corinth are always in awe when first viewing the grand coliseum and express surprise over the beautiful “music hall.”

CROSSROADS ARENA

2800 South Harper Road
(662) 287-7779
crossroadsarena.com

Boosting one of the largest arena floors in the state of Mississippi, the Crossroads Arena provides good quality entertainment from its multi-use complex adapted for a variety of events ranging from conventions, concerts, trade shows, rodeos and specialty acts.

Big names recently appearing at the Corinth venue include country music stars Gary Allan, Travis Tritt, Doug Stone, Trent Harmon, Tracy Lawrence, Mark Chesnutt and the Confederate Railroad, southern rock group 38 Special, Christian rock band Casting Crowns, and the Harlem Globetrotters.

The arena hosts several annual events including the Corinth Comic-Con, North Mississippi PRCA Rodeo, Indoor Motocross Nationals and Mega Monster Truck Mania. It’s also a place where wrestling events, trade shows, circus events and local graduations are held.

Three portable Taraflex Sport M floors can easily turn the arena’s concrete or dirt into a hardwood court perfect for basketball, volleyball or indoor soccer tournaments.

The arena is home to the Alcorn County Basketball Tournament and the Alcorn County Fair each year, as well as the popular annual Wildlife Tasting Supper.
